the active phytochemicals in beans that may play a role in cancer prevention include: saponins, protease inhibitors and phytic acid