cash flow measures reflect how well the pharmacist-owner is managing the uses of cash and liquid assets in the ongoing operations of the business

the result was the same: more than 98 of authors classified their articles as having endorsed the consensus.